Philipp von Hase (1980) is an apprenticed craftsman from hanover in germany. he is now a master furniture designer and maker based in bergen, norway. during his time as a journeyman he manufactured furniture in copenhagen, denmark. over the past decade he has been focusing on his own wood oriented small scale productions. his works often result in a design discussion between the conceptual, physical and psychological form. these rather sculptural pieces have been exhibited in galleries, museums and fairs around the world.
